

CHOOSING A PROGRAM

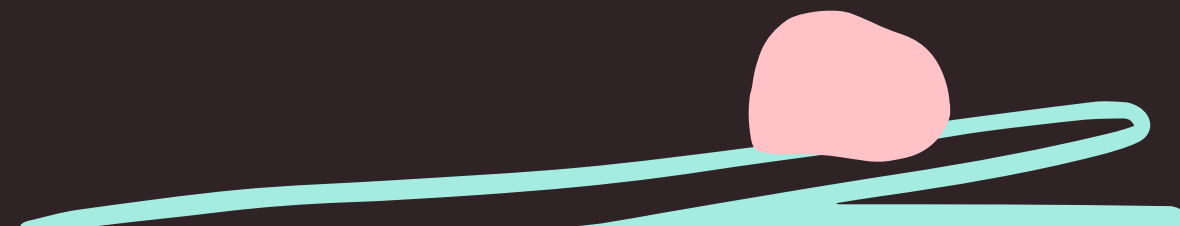

Deciding which program to enroll your child in? You have two options this school year:

Flexible Study Program

Home Study Program

MAIN FEATURES

Flexible Study Program

- The teacher prepares the lessons and learning materials (accessible online via KindrEd)
- Classes are held online and offline; with scheduled live video meeting and online consultations

Home Study Program

- The parent (or guardian or tutor) prepares the lessons and learning materials
- Classes are held anywhere and anytime according to the preference of student and parent

CURRICULUM & ASSESSMENT

Flexible Study Program

- SDIMS K-12 Curriculum
- Both formative and summative assessments are prepared and implemented by the teacher except for Early Childhood Development (ECD) Checklist where teachers and parents collaborate.

Home Study Program

- SDIMS K-12 Curriculum or other curriculum that parents prefer★
- Formative assessments are prepared and implemented by the parent; summative assessments are done collaboratively by the parent and the academic advisor.

★Must be aligned with the K12 competencies set by DepEd

3 Considerations

when choosing a program for your child

Your Child

What set-up would work best in meeting your child's learning needs, interests, styles, and abilities?

Your Family

Who will assist your child? How would your chosen program affect your family dynamics and work?

Your Resources

Do you have the capacity and capability to meet the suggested requirements of your chosen program?
